

MELISSA ENDEAN

Melissa Endean's journey is one of resilience and raw talent.

Born into a family of country musicians, including a grandfather who toured with Johnny Cash, she's naturally poised to become one of Canada's top female country artists.

After years in the industry, Melissa took a five-year break to adjust to life as a single mother, thinking she had left music behind. But the moment she steps on stage, it's clear—Melissa was born for this.

Since re-entering the scene in 2022, she's stormed the BC country music industry. In 2023, she was nominated for Music Video of the Year at the BC Country Music Awards and received a Canada Arts Council Grant to record her EP with CCMA-winning producer Jeff Dalziel.

Her debut single, "Outlaw," is currently dominating radio playlists, and she was recently selected to showcase on the Diamonds in the Rough Stage at this year's Canadian Country Music Awards Week. With unmistakable vocals and a true outlaw spirit, Melissa Endean is boldly carving her own path.
